What do installers say about our training?

It's great that installers give us such good feedback after they've completed their training. We're always looking to do even more, so you can get the most out of your course.

"The course was well presented, very detailed, and I left feeling confident I could install and commission the heat pump."

Steve, Heat Pump installer

"Being here with Bosch, I know I'm going in the right direction."

Surinder, Gas installer

Our expert team delivers the highest standards every day

“Training gives the installer the confidence to fit and recommend the product. With the quality and reliability of Bosch products, if fitted correctly it is usually fit to forget. In my role I enjoy the diversity dealing with all Bosch heating and cooling solutions and building relationships with installers.”

Ray McClay,
Regional Sales Director, Ireland

“I’ve been a trainer and assessor for Bosch for 19 years, and deliver product courses. I specialise in renewables and refrigeration, and am mobile as well as centre based. Training gives installers the opportunity to achieve the best results – each product needs to be specified, designed and commissioned correctly. I enjoy taking a complicated subject and breaking it down into manageable chunks.”

Rob Davenport,
Bosch Trainer
